

Background

The Donald C. Stone Award and the O.P. Dwivedi Award are prestigious recognitions conferred by the International Association of Schools and Institutes of Administration (IASIA) to honor outstanding contributions in the field of public administration.

- Donald C. Stone Award: Established in 2010, this award honors distinguished international scholars and practitioners for their exceptional contributions to the well-being and development of IASIA. It commemorates Donald C. Stone, one of IASIA's founding fathers, and his legacy of fostering global public administration.

- O.P. Dwivedi Award: Created in 2008, this award recognizes significant contributions to public administration and the advancement of public policy on a global scale. It pays tribute to O.P. Dwivedi for his leadership and long-lasting impact on IASIA and the broader field of public administration.

e-voting Procedure

The IASIA Virtual Communication and Decision-Making Mechanism was employed for the award selections, adhering to a simple majority rule. To validate any decision, a quorum of more than 50% of the Board of Management (BoM) members' return receipts or responses is required, amounting to at least 13 votes.
